PROFILE

Computer Science undergraduate (BSc Hons CS/IT) building modern web frontends and backend systems in Python and Node.js, with focus on clean software architecture. Combines algorithmic rigor with human-centered UI design; experienced in full-stack web apps, database schema design, and hackathon prototyping. Open to full-time software development roles, web projects, and internships.

EXPERIENCE & PROJECTS

Rapid Web Application Development — Technical Competitions & Hackathons

- Collaborated in fast-paced developer teams to conceptualize and build working software prototypes under strict competition deadlines.
- Designed frontend components and integrated backend APIs using Python, JavaScript, and REST APIs.

Database Design & Backend Logic — Academic & Personal Builds

- Engineered relational database schemas and structured SQL queries for web application prototypes.
- Built core backend routes ensuring data integrity and query performance; applied OOP principles with Git version control.
